Why advertise your job with ACEVO?

ACEVO is the only membership body in England and Wales that specifically supports civil society chief executives and senior leaders. We empower our members by linking them to a supportive network of expert peers; championing their needs and experiences to decision makers; and providing them with the knowledge and skills to aid their continued professional development.

Unlimited job advertising subscription

Recruitment subscriptions offer a flexible solution for recruiting the managers and trustees you need throughout the year. Regardless of your budget we have a subscription package to help achieve your staffing objectives.

Unlimited advertising allows you to recruit as and when required – all within a fixed annual cost. Secure your budget up front and be safe in the knowledge that your recruitment spend is locked in for the year.

Benefits of unlimited fixed fee subscription advertising:

- Unlimited online job posting
- Full control of your annual recruitment budget
- Self service job posting enabling you to post as soon as a vacancy arises
- Support from ACEVO team
- Regular reporting so you can track effectiveness and ROI
- At least 50% more value compared to pay as you go
- Maximise your budget and advertise planned and unplanned posts as they arise.
